DEVOTED TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

VOL. IV.

GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL. SATURDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1908.

No. 26

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

The first regular meeting of the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon Club was held on Oct. 13th and from the first tap of the gavel in the hand of the new president, Mrs. Edgar W. Pack, was marked by the spirit of inspiration and enthusiasm for the new year. The day being perfect a large attendance added to the interest; and besides the regular members a number of visitors brought promises of future additions to the club membership.

The club has secured new and pleasant quarters for the coming year in the fine new hall just secured in the Hurtt block by the Odd Fellows lodge. This is centrally located and the ladies are congratulating themselves upon their temporary home, while their plans materialize for a clubhouse in the near future.

The first step in this direction will be incorporation; and for this purpose a special meeting will be held at the Odd Fellows hall, Oct. 27, the club committee generously giving up their day for this meeting.

The incorporation lawyer will be present and it is earnestly requested that a full attendance of the club members be given. This will be an important step for the club and the members must come prepared to discuss and to vote, as a majority of over one-half of the members is necessary to decide this question.

After the spirited business meeting Mrs. Pack delivered the president's address, from every phase of which breathed the speaker's own individuality and enthusiasm for the coming club year. The inertia of the past year's stagnation must have been dissipated by the fire of her appeal to the club members for co-operation and assistance in the work which is so systematically laid out.

Mrs. Pack said in part: "Speaking briefly of our scope of work during the coming year, civic work first. What possibilities for our worthy citizenship are saying the trees from the ax of the vandal; protecting our feathered songsters; scattering the pollen of civic work until our city shall blossom as the rose."

"Our forestry work is a new feature. It is a great work; the principles of forestry science come to us in rich experiences and results, so that judging from the past we can plan for the future."

"From our philanthropic committee expect much. 'Not what we give but what we share.' The gift without the giver is bare." Our sublime motto for that day. Local conditions shall determine this particular work. Find out the needs of suffering humanity; then show deeds of practical beneficence."

"Our reciprocity days mean the close friendly spirit as well as the exchange of methods and plans. They have much to cement relationship between individual clubs and between club and federation workers. It is believed there can hardly be recommended a stronger force for power than these days. We invite the club members then to a careful study of our year book and see the numerous treasures within the reach of all. Each one may have a part in making the day's program a success, for each one has some talent ready for use, something that lies within the scope of her abilities."

Special meeting for incorporation, October 27.

On Tuesday evening Miss Birdie and Lillian Shropshire were guests at a well farewell reception held in Los Angeles, given to honor Mrs. William Swan and daughter of Topeka, who have been spending several months in this locality. They are especially delighted with the beauties of this section and are generous in praise for our lusty young city.

The Union Depot will be located at the new Odd Fellows hall, in the Hurtt building, Nov. 7th. Don't miss being there.

Mr. G. S. Bliss, the contractor for the new High School building, called at the NEWS office on Thursday. Mr. Bliss in alluding to the criticisms of the work that have been made, asserts that they are entirely unfounded and that everything in connection with the structure has been and will be done in a workmanlike manner.

On Friday night, Oct. 16, Mrs. Ryan gave her daughter Evelyn a birthday party, about sixteen young people being present. A very enjoyable evening was spent. Mr. Campbell attended the wonderful reconstruction of the city, the character of many of the structures that have been rebuilt, especially in grandeur the buildings which they replaced. Harn; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. R. Potts; treasurer, Mrs. Abbie Small; music box, Mrs. L. M. Salsbury.

Although there were not a great number present at its initial meeting we are confident that it will be but a short time before it will have a large membership. At present it is the only Baraca class in Glendale. Its purpose, of course, is chiefly Bible study, yet it offers many opportunities for social pleasure. We invite all those that are interested to come around and visit us. We meet every Sunday morning at 9:45. Come and join us. We are going to have great times.

Dr. E. J. Barabe is the recipient of news of a very encouraging nature concerning the Belmore Bay Gold Mining Co., Ltd., in which he is the possessor of 10,000 shares. The company owns seventeen claims aggregating 693 acres. Considerable development work has been done on the property, over $70,000 being spent in machinery, etc. The stock pile contains over 1000 tons which is to be put through the mills which the company owns and had erected on their property besides an air compressor, drills, sawmill, etc. The company owns this property outright, having the patents from the Canadian government. Peter King, the father of Sturgeon Lake, has discovered a new find which is simply marvelous. A new board of directors was recently elected composed of men of push who are heavily interested in the property, and work for their own as well as the welfare of the stockholders. (Adv.)

A HAPPY EVENING ANNIVERSARY.

One of the pleasant "Birthday Surprises" of the past week was that so successfully planned for Miss Evelyn Ryan of Third street, as it was her turn next. In company with Miss Lucille Parker she had gone to spend the evening with friends. Later she was sent for and upon her hasty return she discovered her home ablaze with lights and abloom with blossoms and apparently every available spot polka-dotted with a schoolmate's thrown in—for luck. Music, dancing on the big veranda, songs and refreshments filled full the allotted hours. Many dainty and some of the sweet attested the popularity of the sweet young honoree, whose friends will long remember her "th" birthday.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach his fourth sermon on the Holy Spirit. His people are anticipating the best of the series at this time. They have become much interested in these sermons, and are looking for further knowledge, and a good spirited feast. If this meets the eye of a stranger in our town, we cordially invite you to come and enjoy the sermon. Evening services at 7:45. Sunday School at 10 a. m. Prayer meetings Thursday evening at 7:30.

Miss Thompson Honored

For one or more of the pupils of the Tropico High School, tendered one of their number, Miss Adeline Thompson, a surprise at her home on Central avenue, a delightful evening of music and dancing was indulged in. A delicious buffet luncheon was served. Miss Thompson was presented with a handsome High School pennant, which she will carry with her, a very pleasant and happy recollection in her new home.

Get Acquainted Party

Among the many pleasant recollections of the school year which the patrons of the Tropico school will recall, is the delightful "get acquainted" party which Mrs. Martha McClure tendered the parents and patrons of the Tropico school district Friday afternoon at the school building.

Mrs. McClure was assisted by the corps of teachers, who received, entertained and assisted with the refreshments in such a charming manner that the guests, of which there was a large number, forgot all about the gloomy, threatening weather and found nothing but sweet sunshine pervading every nook and recess of the handsome school building.

Miss May Cornwell served the refreshments, while Miss Crystal Waters, Miss Jennie Clay and Clarice Merrill assisted Mrs. McClure in receiving. A short interesting program was rendered which consisted of a duet rendered by Deight Stephenson violin; reading Miss Candace of Cumnock School of Oratory of Los Angeles; vocal solo, Miss Crystal Waters; vocal solo, Miss Waters, who possesses a most sweet and flexible soprano, responded to the second encore. Miss Leila Standlee of Cumnock gave a reading and Miss Anna Watson of Los Angeles a piano solo.

STUDY CLUB CONVENES WITH POPULAR HOSTESS.

Very interesting papers on the subjects of the "Evacuation of Boston to the Declaration of Independence," including the reading of the Declaration; and "Thomas Jefferson" were read by Mrs. Taylor, and Mrs. Trap-han, who also favored the club-members with two vocal solos. A very pleasant hour followed in the discussion of current events. The next meeting will be with Mrs. H. O. Brooks, corner First and Louise.

We are in receipt of a pamphlet issued by the shipowners' association of San Francisco, explaining the proposed issue of bonds for the purpose of purchasing lands on Islais Creek and the betterments thereon, explaining the conditions and requesting that the amendments to be voted on at the coming election covering these propositions be defeated. They also request that support be given to amendment No. 29, providing for 75-year bonds.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

The Record Broken—More Going on Now than at Any Previous Time.

The delightful days of the past week have had the effect of luring out to Glendale a number of visitors who have shown their interest in our city and have been anxious to obtain information in regard to prices, etc. That all have been pleased with this section and its prospects goes without saying and results will follow.

The new grammar school building on Sixth street is rapidly being pushed to completion. The plasterers have about completed their contract and the painters are putting on the first coat on the outside of the building. Half a dozen carpenters are engaged on the interior finishing work. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy by Nov. 10th. The building is a handsome one and will present a fine appearance.

Work is going on satisfactorily at the new High School building; altho' it is as yet confined to the concrete foundation, which in itself is quite a large contract. An overseer employed by the architect is constantly on duty. The sand being put into the foundation is all washed and freed from earth and apparently very good work is being done.

Bricks are being rapidly put in place on the walls of the new fire building on Glendale avenue. The Hurtt block is completed and a description of the same will probably appear in our next issue.

The establishment for the Pulliam Undertaking company on Fourth street near the corner of Louise, will be a creditable addition to our business blocks. The concrete foundation for the structure is completed and the its foundations are forty by sixty feet. A porch, supported by two pillars will run the whole width of the building on Fourth street flush with the sidewalk. The front will be finished in Mission style and will rise twenty feet above the curb. The interior will be divided into several rooms, the principal one of which will be a commodious chapel.

The four houses being erected by Mr. L. C. Brand on Remington street are well under way and will be completed as soon as possible.

Mr. R. M. Neill is putting up a small cottage at Fourth street and Central avenue. Mr. Elliott has the contract for two new houses at the corner of Fourth and Ivy streets. Miss Toll is erecting a residence on Mary street between First and Second streets which will cost about $3000. Another residence in the same class as to cost is being put up by E. Murrman, at Central avenue and Third street.

Mrs. E. T. Byram is putting up a neat cottage near the West Glendale school house. Mr. Richard Addison is just starting work on a $1000 bungalow on Belmont street between Third and Second. Mr. N. C. Thomas has the foundation laid for a five-room cottage to cost about $1500 on Fifth street east of Adams. Mr. Mondon, corner of Campbell and Dryden streets is putting up a $3000 residence. Mr. F. H. Soper is building a $2000 house at Louise Park. Mr. Carmichael has the contract for a residence to cost about $2000 on Fourth street near Central avenue. Mr. Evans, I. H. Chandler is building on Salem street near Central. Lester Jones has a $3000 residence well along on Cedar street above Second.

Mr. A. J. Chapuis is erecting a thousand-dollar bungalow on Tenth street. The Glendale Building and Investment Company is putting up two $3000 residences on the Livingston tract for Mr. Sutton and Mrs. Crooks and have two more foundations laid.

The Valley Lumber Company is building a warehouse east of the railroad track back of the P. T. depot in which to store lime and cement.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Women's Missionary society of the Glendale Presbyterian church held their regular monthly meeting with Mrs. H. M. Byram on Tuesday afternoon. Besides the study of the topics for the month, "Home Missions, the Persia," the society gave attention to the very interesting and profitable talk of Mrs. E. P. Baker of Highland Park. This lady is the district superintendent of the Fourth District of Los Angeles Presbytery, to which this society belongs; and she has supervision over about thirty societies, visiting them as often as possible, and helping in their work.

She will hold an all-day district meeting on Thursday, Oct. 29, at Inglewood, to which she earnestly invites the women of this church.

Detailed announcements were given of the important meetings of women in Pasadena this week in connection with the annual meeting of the Synod of California; the home missionary work to be considered during Wednesday afternoon and Thursday, and the foreign work on Friday. A goodly number of the ladies purposed to attend one or another of these meetings.

Mr. G. S. Davis, who has been a resident of Tropico for the past two years while employed by the G. A. Ralph's grocery in Los Angeles, has obtained an interest in the Tropico Mercantile company with Mr. Gallup and will act as manager of that company's store, the old Logan grocery.

St. Mark's Guild will hold a sale of home cooked articles on Wednesday morning, November 25, at 10 o'clock. Everything good for Thanksgiving. Phone orders to Sunset 1102, or Home 354. See later notices in this paper.

Avery of Gardena and Rev. N. J. Burton officiating. Interment was made at Grand View cemetery.

The social event of the past week was the progressive euchre party given by Mrs. E. A. Fischer at her home on Second street, Saturday evening. A NORTH GLENDALE LUNCHEON.

One of the charming events in the social life of the past week was the "Afternoon" given by a gifted young hostess who proved beyond question a sweet ability to entertain and amuse along original lines. When Miss Emma Williams in her home among the orange trees in North Glendale led her guests to a fairland table, nine happier society buds could not have been found as they vie with the loveliness of the blossoms about them.

Later a most original contest of gales of laughter as each guest brought with her at the request of Miss Williams, an original drawing representing some popular sport. Many of the pictures were very comical, some were genuinely good in more ways than one. For guessing correctly the highest number of sports represented the prize was given to Miss Bertha McLafferty. To Miss Katherine Clemmons fell the little consolation.

Covers were laid for Miss McLafferty and Miss Bertha McLafferty, Miss Sadie Douglas and Miss Potter of Los Angeles, Miss Austine George of "Miradero," Misses Katherine and Eleanor Clemmons, Miss Berenice Williams and Miss Emma Williams. On account of inclemency of the weather several Pasadena guests were not able to be present.

The Santa Monica Bay district, comprising Santa Monica, Ocean Park and Venice, claims a population of 20,000 people and wants to be a separate county. Postmaster Mott Flint had better get busy and nip this scheme in the bud or the Greater Los Angeles of his imagination will be greatly reduced in territory.

Somebody has been lecturing in Los Angeles recently on the "Cultivation of the Cat." Whether he is representing the agricultural department or is merely a scientist at large, we have not yet learned. If the latter, we will simply remark that there are too many of them at large, anyhow, and as for the cat crop, it does not seem to us that there is any crying need for its cultivation, although the preliminaries of planting are conducive frequently to the peace and quietness of a neighborhood.

GAS.

Sierra Madre is agitating the question of gas for that municipality and has appointed a committee to investigate the matter. It is proposed to vote bonds for thirty thousand dollars as they have looked into the matter and arrived at the conclusion that for that sum a system can be installed that will give satisfaction for a number of years.

A plant has recently been put in at Huntington Beach. In neither of these places is there more need for a gas plant than in Glendale. Our rapidly increasing population assures the financial success of a gas company conducted on business like lines. We note with satisfaction the action of our city trustees in making a request to the Southern California Gas Circuit company that they state when they propose to begin to put in their system and supply gas to consumers who were led to believe two years ago that this company would be doing business in Glendale before this time. We hope to see something done along these lines very soon for the need of it begins to be pressing.

OUR STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

A Record to Be Proud Of.

Glendale streets are becoming famous and attracting the attention of road makers from other municipalities. The petrolic method in use here has been demonstrated to be the system best adapted to our requirements and is giving results that are very gratifying to all concerned. Considerable of the credit for the good work done here should be given to our very efficient street superintendent, Mr. F. R. Sinclair, who has not only made sure that the requirements of the specifications have been fully complied with, but has suggested improvements in the methods of work, which have been adopted by the contractors with most satisfactory results. Work is being done now on a dozen different streets. Adams and Ninth streets have recently been completed. Work is now being pushed forward rapidly on Brand boulevard and it is expected that this, one of our main thoroughfares, will soon be in a condition that will attract the favorable notice of the many visitors to our city who travel over the Pacific Electric line. It seems not to have been determined just what the railroad company will do to its right of way here, at present; although ultimately it will, no doubt, be made to correspond with the improvement on both sides. The track through the city should be lowered to grade, and, no doubt, this will be done, as Mr. L. C. Brand and other property owners along the line are exerting their influence in this direction. The following named streets are now being advertised and the work of grading, curbing and sidewalking them, will go ahead at once: First street from Central avenue to Brand boulevard, Second street between Brand boulevard and Glendale avenue, Orange Grove avenue, Louise street, Howard street, Mary street and Orange street. Other streets are to be improved at once, and within a year from the present time it is probable that there will be very few of our streets which will not have been put in a condition equal to the best that we now have. This satisfactory work of general improvement speaks well for the enterprise of our property owners and will aid more than any other single factor in attracting home builders. Nearly all of the work is being done under the ten years bond act which gives the property owner a term of years in which to pay the cost, but at the same time gives to him immediate results and adds at once to the value of his property much more than the cost of the improvement.

THE DIRECT PRIMARY IN OREGON.

As California is to vote on an amendment to the state constitution at the coming election, by which it is proposed to secure the passage of a direct primary law, the experience of Oregon with the direct primary is instructive as well as interesting. Oregon is a strongly Republican state, and yet, thanks to the direct primary, has one representative in the United States senate who is inoculated with Populism and a Republican legislature is under instructions from the people to elect a Democrat as Senator Bourne's colleague.

Under the direct primary law anybody may announce himself as a candidate for any office, without depending upon the machinery of a nominating convention, and voters wishing to do so can vote directly for their choice. Both Senator Bourne and Mr. Chamberlain received the endorsement of the people by making a strenuous effort to secure it. It is said that Senator Bourne's bill for postage stamps alone was nearly five thousand dollars. In the primary election he received less than one-half of the votes cast and yet by reasons of his successful striving he had the necessary plurality. The claim made in support of the direct primary is that it enables the "people to rule." The public does not seem to consider that the present nominating system enables the people to rule. That the people allow themselves to be humbugged into supporting too frequently at the primaries, self-seeking politicians is no proof that the present system of nominating by means of political conventions is not a good one. On the other hand the experience of Oregon is not proof that the direct primary system is not a good one. Under one system as well as the other, the man who "rustles" most vigorously for the office, has the best chance of winning, regardless of any question of merit. There are exceptions to this rule, but they do not contradict it. Now and then it occurs that a man is so peculiarly fitted for a position that he is relieved of the necessity of exerting himself to secure it, but these cases are few and far between. The particular weakness of the direct primary will probably prove to be the scattering vote. The office-seeker will work persistently and systematically, but the people at large will support a large number of candidates and so waste their efforts. There is at least a possibility that this will in effect give to the voters less power than they exercise at present. Theoretically, however, the direct primary is a step in the direction of a wider participation by the people in political affairs. No system can be devised that will compensate for the credulity and ignorance of a large mass of voters who are in ordinary affairs neither credulous nor ignorant. But after all the success or failure of any system resolves itself into a question of individual responsibility.

TOO MANY PATCHES.

There are fourteen amendments proposed to be made to our sacred old state constitution, to be voted on at the election of Nov. 3d. Evidently there were more constitution tinkers than usual in our last legislature. To enable himself to vote with reasonable intelligence on these propositions, the average voter would find it necessary to study them nights and Sundays for a much longer period than will elapse between now and election day.

And when he shall have seen the effects in actual working of some of the theories which he may decide to support, it is not improbable that he will be willing to call himself all sorts of an idiot for ever supposing that he was voting "intelligently." It sounds beautifully when put into language by eloquent tongues, to hear the "government of the people, by the people" expounded and dilated upon, but when it comes down to substantial facts, the average voter is not endowed with sufficient wisdom to be the arbiter of the nation's destinies, or in plainer English, the maker of its laws. Should we then have a government by experts? Perish the thought, unless they are experts with a rich record of work accomplished rather than of theories formulated! The average voter is fully as capable of exercising the franchise wisely as is the theorist whose ideas have not been subject to the test of experience. We do not say that Prof. Carl Plehn of the University of California, is unwise in his theories of taxation, but the plan for raising revenue which is recommended to the voters in the proposed amendment which will, if adopted, make a radical change in the methods of collecting revenue, seems to have serious defects. The amendment was prepared under Prof. Plehn's advice by the hold-over committee on revenue and taxation, appointed by the legislature of 1904-1905. Prof. Plehn's theory is that real estate bears too heavy a portion of the burden of taxation and that personal property should pay more than it does under the present system. The radical change which the amendment proposes, is to set aside certain properties to be expressly taxed for certain purposes. For instance, it would set aside all taxes on corporations, to be applied to state purposes only. This is objected to seriously by counties and municipalities which at present derive a large portion of their revenue from corporations. The average voter and his fellows will have to ponder over this proposition seriously before essaying to vote upon it. Then there are thirteen other amendments to be decided at the polls, and many of the propositions are very serious ones. There is the question of the removal of the state capital for one. There seems to be a general understanding that this proposition is not to be taken seriously, but there will be so many voters who will refrain from voting on the amendment at all, that it is within the limits of possibility that by quiet and systematic work on the part of the proponents of removal, the scheme might carry after all and a tremendous expense be saddled unnecessarily upon the people of the state. These two are samples of the weighty matters which the voters will be compelled to decide, and discouragements may well overtake the man who tries to thoroughly digest them.

It would seem as if the present constitution is a rather antiquated document when so much patching is necessary from year to year. The instrument came into being during the domination of California by the old "Workmen's Party," when Denis Kearney was at the zenith of his power, and it has undoubtedly enough defects, but on the whole is probably about as good an organic law as we should be likely to get if a convention should be called to frame another. Fourteen patches at one time, however, is too suggestive of an attenuated condition of the original, and the average voter had better go slow.

THE WEATHER.

"Twas Lowell who wrote of the month of June: 'Then, if ever, come perfect days.' And the same might well be said of October in California. Particularly of an October that has been rained upon by a rain that has sought out the grass roots and pushed into the resulting sprouts of greenery into the warm sunshine where in doubt as to whether they had better go ahead growing or stand still for awhile, they remain to gladden the eyes of mortals. The rainfall has washed the dust out of the atmosphere, so that by some mystical necromancy distance is confounded and the mountains which we know are off yonder, appear to be almost here.

But it was not rain on the mountain top; the touch of frigidity congealed the moisture into snowflakes that give to distant "Baldy" an ermine crown appropriate to his age, and being gazed at from our comfortable "coln of vantage" in the valley, makes us more appreciate of immediate surroundings. The temperature for the last two or three nights has hovered around the lower 30's so that on low ground the signs of the blighting touch of wholesome frost is visible on tender growths but not to the extent of damage of a material nature yet.

It is just about the season, however, when there is no certainty that the tomato, pumpkin and potato vines and the sensitive growths of ornamental plants which hold up their heads proudly when the sun goes down, will raise them at all to greet his morning rays. However, there are "frostless belts" and the greenery will not disappear because the short days are upon us and the season of the abundant tourist is at hand.

COUNTRY CLUB NOTES.

A Japanese Environment for "Third Monday" Guests.

The popular "Third Monday" was beautifully observed during the hours from 2 until 5 in the clubhouse patron. Receiving hostesses were Mrs. E. W. Sargent, president of the Freshwater club, a well-known and popular musical organization in Los Angeles; Mrs. Thos. Thornton of Central avenue, and Mrs. L. C. Brand of "Miradero."

To the artistic taste of these ladies was due the art displayed in the unique decoration of rooms which as a rule, depend upon their own beauty; with perhaps a few blossoms, for giving a pleasing impression.

Strings of gay lanterns, red and yellow, butterfly and dragoned, pivoted overhead. An impression was evident that wisteria or a cherry tree was in progress. The flower of Japan banded the big fireplace and pretty maidens flitted about, gorgeous in bright embroidered, and much chrysanthemum gowns; their huge and very black pompadour adorning with the jingle of old Japan. Though they seemed so many as they daintily wobbled about they finally resolved themselves "into just three, serving sweetcakes and Japanese tea!" These attracted little assistant hostesses turned out to be, not tourists from Yokohama after all, as they were Miss Sargent and Miss Clarke of Los Angeles and Miss Austine George of "Miradero." During a spirited game of "fan-tan" ten tables were filled. The game was new to many but some of the guests proved sharp contestants. At the bell signal, awards fell to Mrs. T. E. Stanton, of Central avenue, and to Mrs. H. Glasier of Lomita Park, the prizes being very handsome Japanese pillow tops. Score cards were imprinted with Japan's figures in silhouette.

The Country Club "Monday hops" were resumed this week, to continue on through the winter. Members of the present class are largely those who attended during the past season.

The remaining Monday afternoon for October will be in the hands of Mrs. L. C. Brand, Mrs. E. W. Sargent of Los Angeles and Mrs. Thos. Thornton of Central avenue when the Woman's Auxiliary meets in the clubhouse. A board meeting will precede the regular hour.

During November Woman's Auxiliary hostesses will be Mrs. Charles Bowl, Mrs. T. E. Stanton, Mrs. Balfour and Mrs. Menzo Williams of North Glendale. Mrs. Bowl and the assisting ladies have already planned the various "Mondays" and on the third Monday will give a rare Spanish entertainment and reception for which elaborate plans are already complete, including Spanish music, decoration, game and refreshment. The aim is to make this one of the well-remembered events of the winter's social season.

GLENDAL CITY GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

This week closes the first school month with an enrollment of 323.

The girls' basketball team are doing some hard practice work with Miss Lucile Shultz as coach.

The first team is composed of the following: Catherine Lennox, Mary MacDonald, Esther Heilman, only Quick, Anna Addison and Francis Zerr, captain.

The boys' first baseball team played a five-inning game with the High School Freshman last Friday afternoon. Both teams did good work. The score was 2 to 1, in favor of the Freshmen.

A game is scheduled with Tropi-

Grammar Friday afternoon, Oct. 23.

Miss Frances Hendershott, the newly appointed librarian, has just completed the reclassifying and recataloging of the library books.

The Grammar School Library now contains 745 volumes, classified as reference, history and biography, miscellaneous, travel, adventure, fiction and juvenile; 1093 supplementary books, and 158 culture course books. The latter class is divided among the various grades and the reading of these books is the part of the regular school work of each pupil.

Banking by Mail

Is all right if you have no good bank accessible, but statistics prove that the deposits in the small bank are just as safe, the officers are just as honest, are living among you as neighbors, are just as watchful over the affairs of the small bank, and absolutely know a bank's condition when it would not be possible in the case of a large bank. The Bank of Glendale is proud of its board of directors.
